

Background

In recognition of the legacy of healthcare workers during the COVID-19 pandemic, CIBC has invested $500,000 over two academic years (2020/2021 and 2021/2022) in the education of tomorrow's healthcare professionals. The CIBC Future Heroes Bursary Program will inspire and support the next generation in their ambition of having a career in healthcare.

Number, value and duration of bursaries

For the 2021/2022 academic year, one hundred and twenty five (125) entrance bursaries will be available to students entering into their first year of a first degree, be it a bachelor, diploma, or certificate, at an eligible institution, in an eligible program.

Please see the list of eligible institutions and programs below.

Each scholarship will be valued at $2,500 CAD and is available for a one-year award.

Eligibility

Eligible applicants must:

- Be entering into full-time studies in the first year of a first degree, be it a bachelor, diploma or certificate in the 2021/2022 academic year. Student who have already studied at the post-secondary level are not eligible*.
- Be attending an eligible institution, as identified in the list below;
- Be enrolled in an eligible program, as identified in the list below;
- Be a Canadian citizen or permanent resident;
- Have a minimum cumulative average of 70% (or equivalent) over the last 3 terms of available marks. Non-academic courses such as career or personal development related courses will not be considered.

*An exception applies to those students who have studied for one term of post-secondary to obtain their health program prerequisites.

Universities Canada's policy on calculation of average has been developed in consultation with university and college admissions and financial aid officers from across the country. There is enormous diversity among the applicants for this scholarship program. The applicants come from different geographical regions and have reached various levels of studies. Furthermore, and of great significance, is the fact that grading systems differ among educational institutions. It is Universities Canada's policy to calculate the academic average of applicants so that it reflects an academically well-rounded individual, while recognizing the differences in the programs of studies. For this purpose, the most recent, followed by the highest available grades of four courses will be considered. In the case of high school transcripts, the following categories will be considered: Language, Social Sciences, Mathematics and Sciences. Six courses are chosen for each applicant, with no more than two in each category. If there are not enough available courses, the calculation of academic average may be based on four or five courses.

Administrator

Scholarship Partners Canada (SPC), a division of Universities Canada, administers this scholarship program on behalf of CIBC. Universities Canada's mandate is to facilitate the development of public policy on higher education and to encourage cooperation among universities and governments, industry, communities, and institutions in other countries. Universities Canada is associated with leading firms in nearly every sector of the economy through its provision of scholarship services and management of more than 130 different scholarship programs on behalf of corporations, government agencies and private foundations throughout North America. For additional information, please visit www.univcan.ca.

Selection process

The selection of scholarship recipients is made by a committee of Canadian university and college representatives chosen by SPC. CIBC exercises no influence in the adjudication process. Once complete, the selection committee's decision is irrevocable.

Evaluation criteria:

- Financial need;
- Academic excellence;
- Essay submission highlighting the student's personal ambition in their chosen program and field.

Once available, applicants will receive confirmation by email of the results of the selection process.

Successful applicants

Successful applicants will receive confirmation of their scholarship in August. Recipients will be required to complete the online scholarship acceptance process and forward any required documentation such as proof of registration from the educational institution they will be attending. It is the responsibility of the recipient to keep SPC informed of any changes to their contact information through the online student portal.

Payment

- Scholarship payment will be issued upon completion of the scholarship acceptance process; and, review and acceptance of all required supporting documentation by SPC;
- SPC will forward scholarship payment to the educational institution on behalf of CIBC;
- It is the student's responsibility to ensure that payment of tuition fees is made within the defined time frame set by the educational institution regardless of the timing of the scholarship payment;
- Payment by the institution to the student will be made in accordance with the normal practice of the educational institution;
- Note that, depending on method of payment, receipt of payment can take 6-8 weeks following the applicant's acceptance of the award.

Application process

The student is considered the owner of the application and must be eligible for the scholarship according to the program guidelines. The application must be completed and submitted by the student.
